I have lived in Madison Park 45 years and have enjoyed shopping at City People's Madison Valley store and nursery. I also patronize restaurants and shops in Madison Valley and of course drive through it regularly.

Let's keep an open mind about change. I like how PCC is willing to listen to community input and to present a design accommodating community wishes of a lesser impact on the neighborhood. I am not anti-PCC and occasionally shop there when I am near one of its locations.

The proposed parking garage is sorely needed already, even before the store is built. I would like it available for general use at reasonable rates.
