Dear Magda Hogness,

Oh, what to say. I am so disappointed with what our beautiful, preserved city has become, and where our community leaders have brought us. What a shame. Seattle has been overtaken by greed and misguided morals. This city was such a gem, and the few remaining peaceful areas are becoming victim to gluttonous growth. I would beg you and the developer to reconsider this large and out of place project in our last standing on-the-verge of overdeveloped Madison Valley. There is so much more to life here for us, someone has to be strong and bright enough to just say no more. Look around --- Seattle is becoming a place I don't recognize, I'm sad beyond words. We are better than this, we have all the power to say no for our beautiful city.

Regretfully yours, and with all of the hope in the world,

Alexis Youngberg

I have to believe in you.
